PREFACE

This year has been outstanding in the light of all the difficulties experienced by students and teachers alike. A hearty thank-you is owed to all those responsible for making this year so memorable.

THE BIG "D"

We have chosen a "big D" theme for our yearbook. We feel that this theme stands for the many aspects of life at Danville High School. We have shown the big "D" of desire in sports. All features of our athletic department have shown what can be done by the power of will and ability blended into a winning spirit. Education to the best of their ability has highlighted our staff of teachers. Their determination to teach has been remarkable considering the difficulties they have faced. Though curtailed in number many clubs and extracurricular activities have gone on, helping to make this an enjoyable year. The "D" has many meanings, but for us, it stands for Danville High School in 1968-69.

anville High School's life was varied in '69

Repairs under way during the summer included new windows which left DHS bare for awhile.

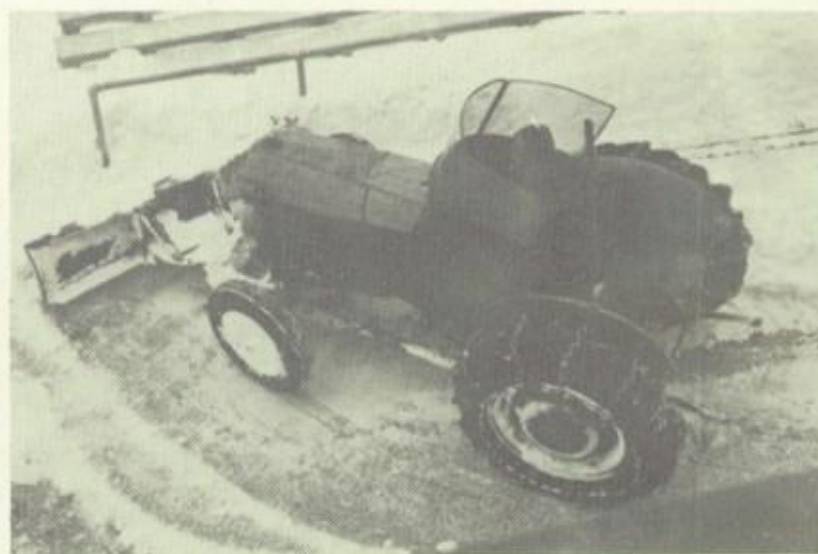

Seen from the east Danville High presented a quiet scene.

The new windows gave a very different look to the south side of the building.

The tractor got a heavy workout trying to keep the snow under control and the walks clean.

The parking lot was a quiet place in the fall.

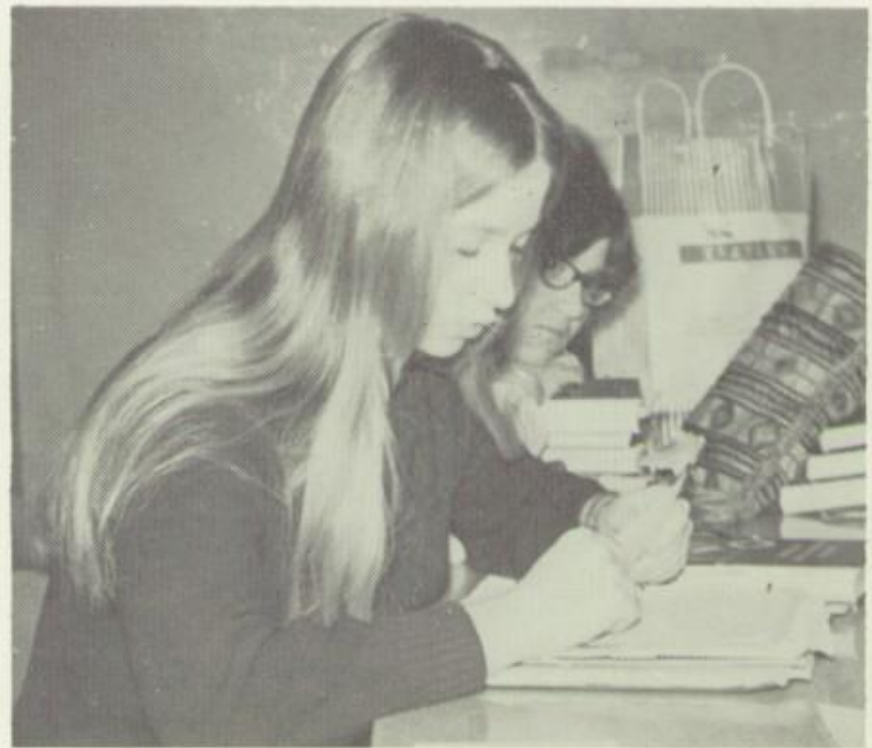

Snow complicated parking as this shot shows.

Dennis and these girls found the enlarged guidance office made it easier to read about the colleges from the display racks of catalogues.

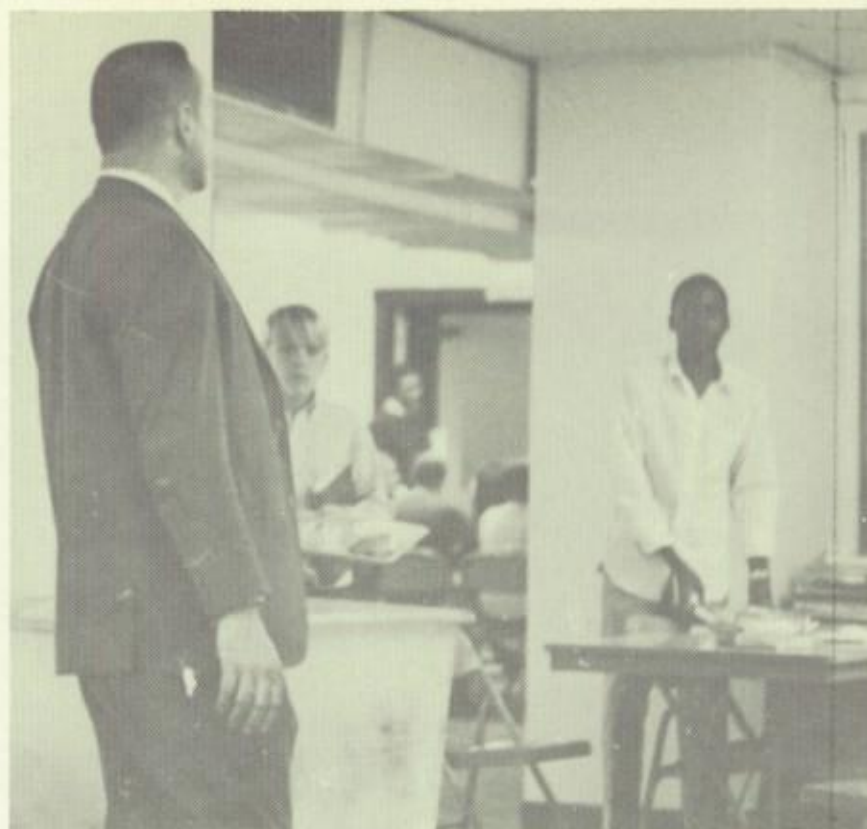

Self-study periods were available for some seniors and many like Becky used the cafeteria tables to good advantage.

Richard and Dave assembled the new study carrels for use in the Audio-visual room where they proved popular as listening centers.

Mr. Grierson was a familiar figure in the cafeteria during the lunch hour.

Rockets going up or fizzling out became a familiar sight to some of the industrial engineering classes. This one did work after its thorough inspection by Dennis.

Study halls were still a part of DHS life though some people didn't use them too well, as can be seen here.

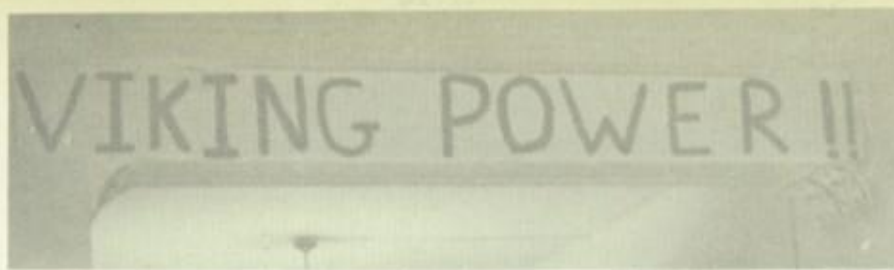

Mother Superior overcame all of Homer's plans to leave by her persuasion.

Mary, Queen of Scots, talked seriously with Lord Huntley.

The boys' number led by the guitars was a popular part of the musical trip to London-town.

Mr. Sanders at the mike as his spotter looked on.

SIGNS OF 1968-69

The Viking victory dance.

Mr. Hickman presented the coaching award to Mr. Shebby.

The Cross Country champs were presented to the football crowd.

Basketball mothers were honored at half-time.

Mr. Burrer presented the Rotary Honors winners to club members at their November 18 luncheon.

The cheerleaders and pep band led the activities on the mall when the football and cross country teams were honored by the city of Danville.

This little red schoolhouse was an important central point for the Citizens School Committee in their efforts for a successful referendum.

CITY ADMINISTRATION

"The Year of the Cutback." Yes, it was a relatively new and disheartening experience for everyone. Those citizens who were serving on the Board of Education and the members of the City Administration responsible for making the final plans for retrenchments heard many remarks opposing their ideas for coping with the problems. They heard praise as well: praise because they tried to make the most of a bad situation and present as good a school program as possible under the circumstances. These included half-day sessions at the grade school levels, a shortened junior high day, and many condensations of the high school program.

Mr. Lou Mervis headed the Board of Education. David H. Radcliffe completed his fourth year as the Superintendent of Schools. Working with him were John T. Fennessey as Superintendent for Instruction and Forest L.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Seated: Mrs. Lillian Pearson, secretary; Earl Hartshorn. Standing: Dr. W. F. Hensold; Walter Glavey; Lloyd Hilleary; Carroll Dukes; David H. Radcliffe, superintendent; Louis Mervis, president.

DeWeese who headed the business activities as Superintendent for Business Affairs. Lester J. Snyder, who had served as the Superintendent of Buildings for the last six years, retired this summer. He had done much to keep the schools in good working condition.

In the spring a special Citizens committee was successful in passing a referendum which would help both the Board and the Superintendent to restore the things cut back this year.

HIGH SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION

In their second year as President and Assistant Principal, Mr. Burrer and Mr. Mathisen were forced to cope with many changes and make many decisions. There were fewer teachers to work with and to teach the larger student body. Also assembly programs had to be scheduled so that as many students as possible might see them. Mr. Mathisen became the "chief voice of DHS" as the shortened homeroom period created the need to use the inter-com for announcements.

Added to the usual attendance and discipline problems Miss Bock and Mr. Grierson faced were the provisions of the new dress code. Working with a committee representing the various segments of the school, the Deans helped to work out a code which would permit individuality but not extremism. Mr. Thomas Massie joined the staff this year to work particularly with the problem of keeping students in school.

Mr. Ware, as usual, was busy with ticket sales and took on the added responsibilities of the supply room.

The secretaries worked behind the scenes to keep things running smoothly.

There were changes in course offerings, too. New physics and science courses were opened as well as some accelerated science classes. Social studies saw alterations; comparative government became a new course, a course in Negro history was offered, and accelerated courses in world history and American studies came into being. Relocation and expansion of existing courses in industrial education, as well as new courses in other fields were put into effect to keep the curriculum constantly improving.

School year 1968-1969, better known as the "Year of the Cutback," was long and difficult, but it was a challenge to everyone to make the most of the situation and look forward to not only the restoration of those things cut out, but also to more advancements next year after the successful referendum passed in the spring of '69.

This year has been a difficult and challenging one for students, teachers, and administrators due to changes necessitated by the referendum failure. The most notable one for the student was the shortening of the homeroom period from thirty minutes to five. This meant the day began at 8:25 and you possibly could sleep just a little longer in the morning. Teachers were faced with a full load of six classes each day due to the necessity of cutting the consultation period from the schedule. This affected the students especially when they needed to make up work or get extra help in a subject.

Many beneficial changes were made this year however. The guidance office was rearranged to make the best use of available space created by combining the offices, and the second and third floors were brightened by new hall lights. The cafeteria was altered some, with the familiar pop machines and candy counter missing, and new lunch lines where everything from whole lunches to a la carte was available.

Scenes in the cafeteria kitchens.

CAFETERIA

One of the busiest places at D.H.S. was the cafeteria during 4A, 4B, and split lunch hours. New lunch lines were introduced this year with two of them being "a la carte" and the others served the standard school lunch. Also new this year were the signs at the front of the cafeteria which told hungry students what was being served.

Mr. Joe Harlow supervised District 118's school lunch program.

Through the day, the cafeteria was also used as a meeting place for many activities, student tutoring, and the newly formed self-study program for seniors.

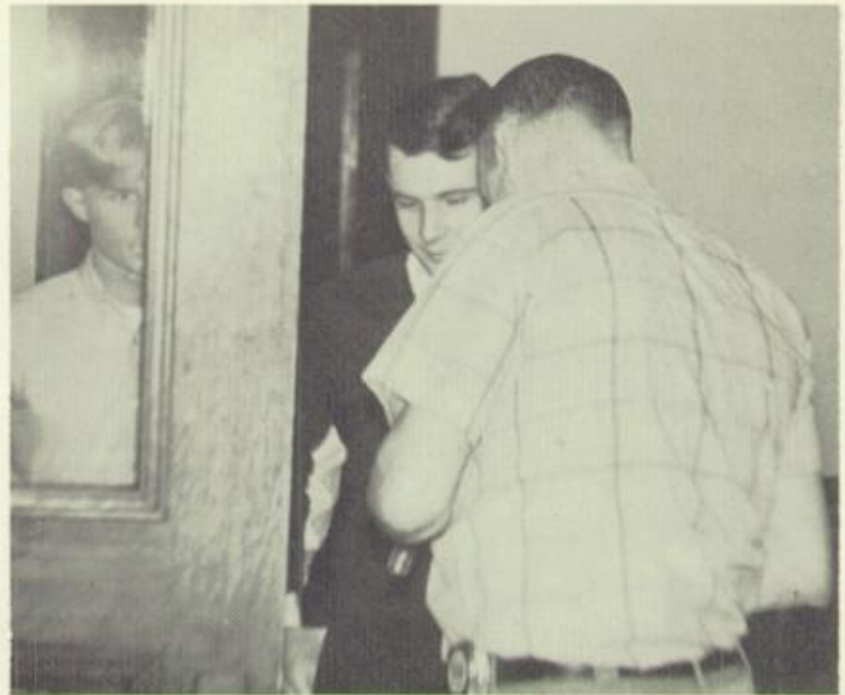

Second row: Mrs. Carroll; Mrs. Snyder; Mrs. Beasley; Mrs. Skoog; Mr. Harlow. First row: Mrs. Kienietz; Mrs. Schmidt; Mrs. Wildman; Mrs. Lete.

MAINTENANCE

Mr. Bott, who was a familiar figure after school on first floor, retired in June.

Mr. Murer and Rick supervised Mr. Hettmansberger as he repaired the lock on 328.

Danville High School was very fortunate in having a kindly, hard-working staff of maintenance personnel. Marvin Hettmansberger was serving his first full year in the job and was truly "everywhere at once." Since D.H.S. is an older building all of the men were called upon to do many minor repairs.

Down in the locker rooms Mrs. Bowers and Mr. Eason were familiar figures. This year the school took on the responsibility of doing its own towels so there was much to do.

Most of the other maintenance men worked after school so were not as well known to the students. Those not caught by the camera included R. Jones; Myers; C. Dickison and O. Martin.

Mr. Burton and Mr. Bedard were kept especially busy by the Medley staff.

Mrs. R. Cheney; Mrs. H. Smith; Mrs. B. Cunningham; Mrs. C. Capps; Mrs. R. Pepping;
Mrs. R. Romine.

School is not all students and teachers. It is parents, too, and parents are interested in school and what is happening there. To meet the needs of the parents to remain in communication with the school and for the school to keep in touch also, the Parent-Teacher Association was active in D.H.S. this year.

The program this year was built around the theme, "Let's Face the Issue." The first program was an orientation and school visitation night so that parents could follow their students' class schedules. The next two meetings were discussion groups on drinking and on military service. The final meeting presented the AFS student from Germany, our summer AFS student in Italy, and those students who spent part of last summer studying in Scotland and Mexico.

The organization provided help for the Deans to meet emergency expenses, sponsored the Honor Society breakfast and the reception following the Commencement activities. Mrs. Charles Capps was the president this year. She was assisted by Mrs. Brad Cunningham, first vice-president; Mr. Burrer, second vice-president; Mrs. Harlan Smith, secretary; Mrs. Robert Pepping, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Cheney, membership chairman; and Mrs. Reginald Romine, program chairman.

BEST CITIZENS

Sue and Van discussed plans as they read a MEDLEY.

The highest honor which seniors may receive is election to the positions of Best Boy and Girl Citizens. This year the honors were held by Sue Doan and Van Tanner. Both have been very active in many fields in D.H.S.

Sue has served as the girl president of the A Cappella Choir this year, has been a member of Pompettes, served on the MEDLEY copy staff and was in the senior class play, "Learn, Baby, Learn." She has always been most willing and gracious in her sharing of her musical talent in voice.

Van was elected to head the senior class for this year. He was also a valuable member of both the Viking football and wrestling teams and was chosen as honorary co-captain of each team at the end of the seasons. As a member of the D Club, and its president, he helped in the gymnasium before and during each basketball game. He was a member of the MEDLEY business staff and had a lead role in "Learn, Baby, Learn."

SENIOR CLASS

OFFICERS

Clockwise: Dennis Fox; Anne Greenlee; Mr. Looft, advisor; Cindy Johnson; Van Tanner; Jan Patterson.

The Class of 1969 was led by its officers Van Tanner, president; Dennis Fox, vice-president; Anne Greenlee, secretary-treasurer; Jan Patterson, social chairman; and Cindy Johnson, historian. Mr. Roger Looft was advisor.

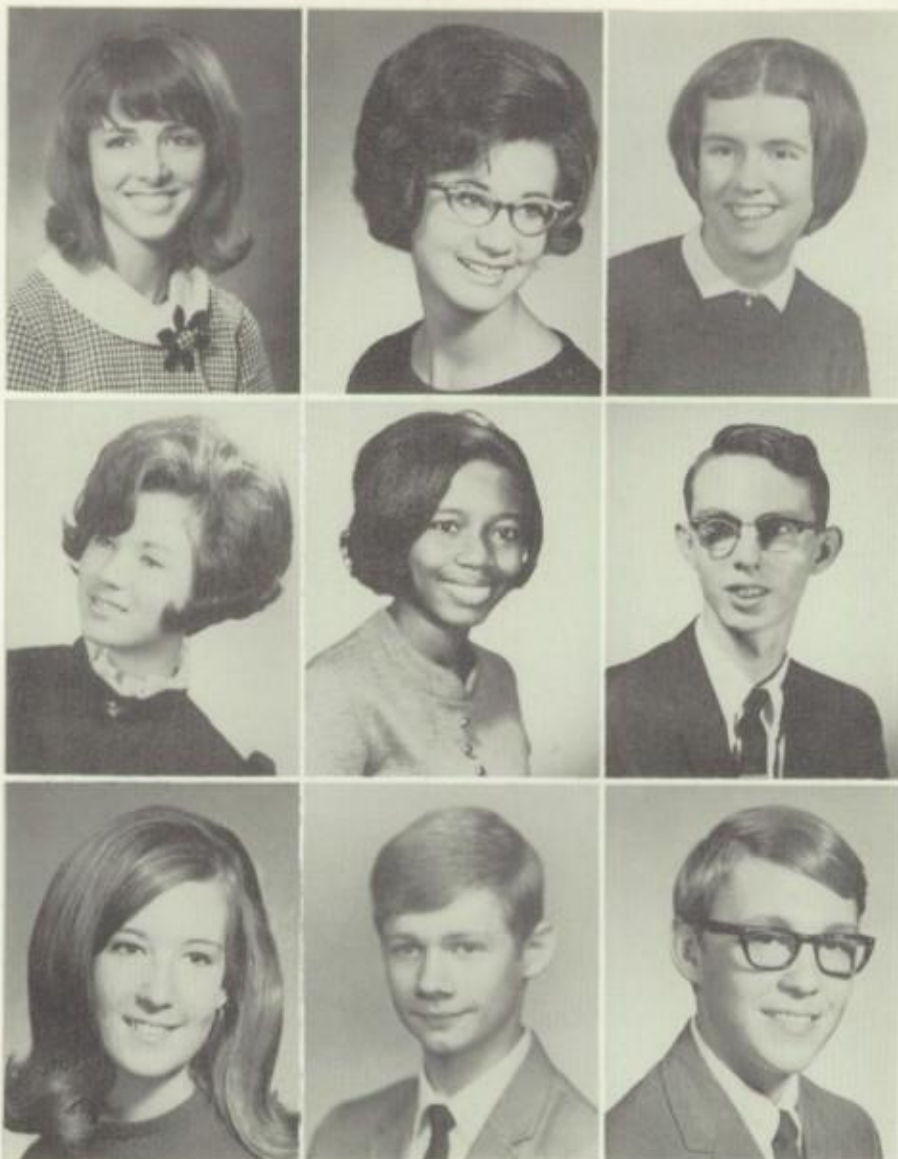

Living up to its motto, "A thought may be the mark of your success," class members participated in clubs and related school functions. Aside from academics there were many who were active in sports, Student Council, musical and dramatic productions, and school publications.

Scholastically, the class did well as a whole. There were some sixty members in the Honor Society and many were honored as Rotary Scholars. This year there were several National Merit semi-finalists and one scholarship winner.

Committee chairmen for the class were Bill Underwood, gift; Kirk Nelson, motto; J. Welch song; Nancy Davis, announcements; Bob Fultz, commencement address; and Bob Gross, class day.

Standing: D. Garner; C. Lamb; B. Gross; K. Lucas; D. Fay; J. Duitsman; A. Schiff; D. Carner; R. Roose. First row: J. Barks; C. Graham; J. Dole; J. Patterson; V. Tanner; D. Fox; D. Bacon.

Sixty-five students were honored by Rotary Club for their scholastic achievements. For the first time the awards were presented at a regular club meeting, this year on November 18. To receive this honor a junior must have maintained a 4.75 average for the preceding year. Senior awards were on the same basis for a single year. Those who maintained the average for a two year period received a special pin with a bar attached.

JUNIOR CLASS

Sue Radabaugh; Kathy Pepping; Greg Colby; Jan Juvinall; Mrs. Stange.

The junior class carried on activities they had begun as the "mighty sophs" and continued to take a most active part in D.H.S. life. They were kept busy in classes such as required American history and English, but began to continue their work in major courses or in vocational classes. They also continued to participate in sports, music, and clubs. Many took the PSAT, SAT, ACT and National Merit Scholarship tests. Some who were already looking ahead to college talked with college counselors as they visited D.H.S. A special

College Night was held so they might talk with several counselors at one time and also bring their parents for the interviews.

The biggest class activity was the planning and presenting of the Junior-Senior Prom which was based on the theme of "Camelot." Many hours of hard work went into this effort.

Greg Colby headed the class as president. Vice-president Kathy Pepping, Secretary Jan Juvinall and Social Chairman Susie Radabaugh all contributed their help. Mrs. Nancy Stange served as class advisor.

Standing: M. Anders; S. Cline; P. Lenover; J. Yanko; N. Rice; M. Stephens; B. Gray.
Seated: J. Crow; P. Damery; J. Juvinall; S. Radabaugh; K. Pepping; H. Doney; M. Williamson.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomore class was led by Terry Williams as president. He was assisted by Connie Gruelle, vice-president; Lou Ann Lemaire, secretary-treasurer; and Ann Willis, social chairman. Miss Christabel Bock served as advisor this year.

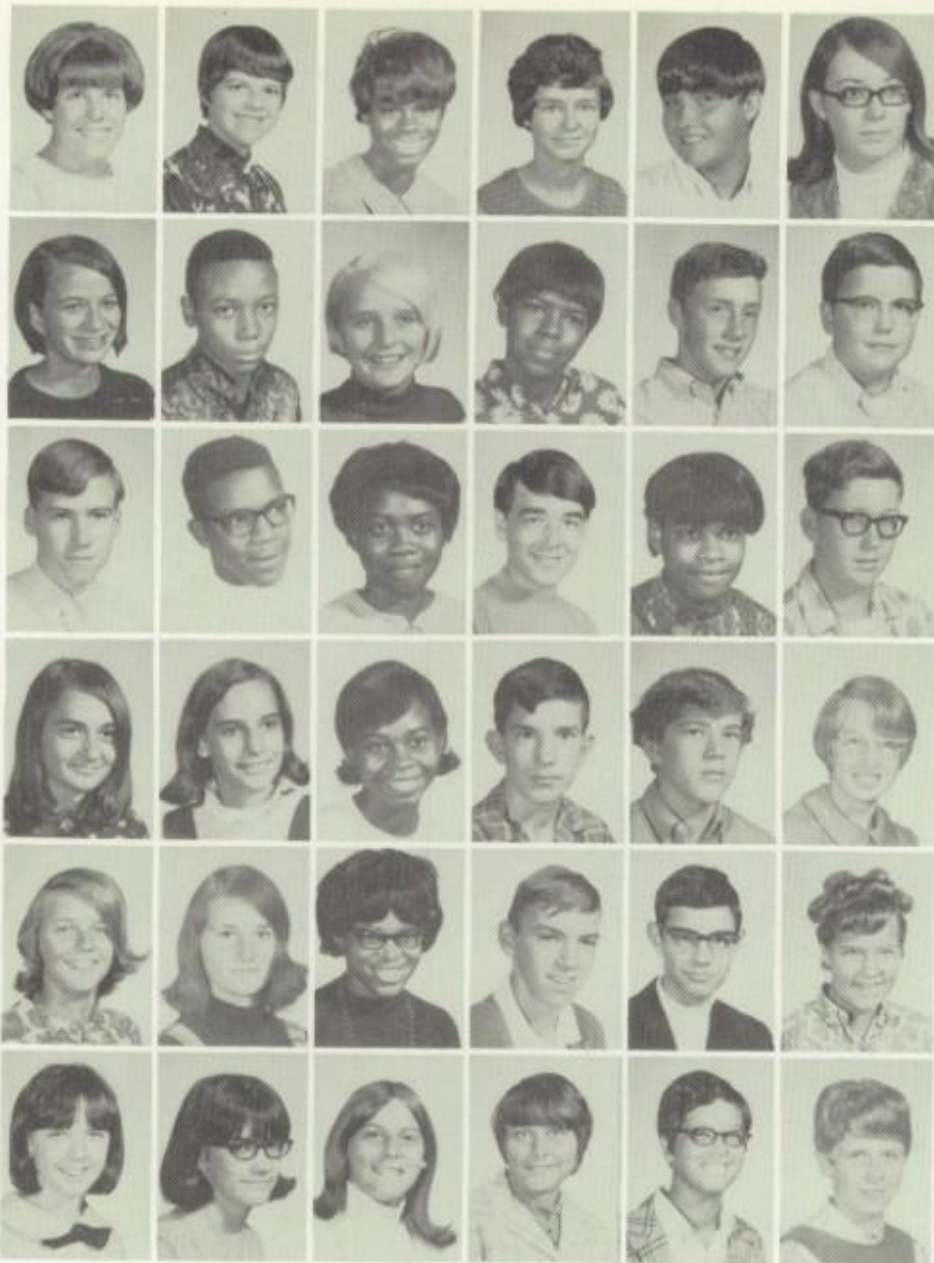

Among the many activities of the class members were participation in music and sports as well as their academic subjects. Required classes included driver education and speech and physical education. At Christmas time the class officers were responsible for decorating the Christmas tree in the front hall, using popcorn and cranberry chains and other old-fashioned decorations to suggest a tree of years gone by.

Active participation in school activities by so many of the sophomores gave good prospects for continued support of Danville High School's busy program. President Terry Williams called this "the largest and greatest class ever at D.H.S."

Standing: K. Tanner; L. Meyer; T. Walters; C. Milewski; P. Paxton; P. Hanson. Seated:
L. Lemaire; T. Williams; C. Gruelle; A. Willis.

IN MEMORIAM

Danville High School was saddened by two tragic deaths this year.

In August just before the start of school Rocky Denney was accidentally shot, and in October Johnnie Miles died.

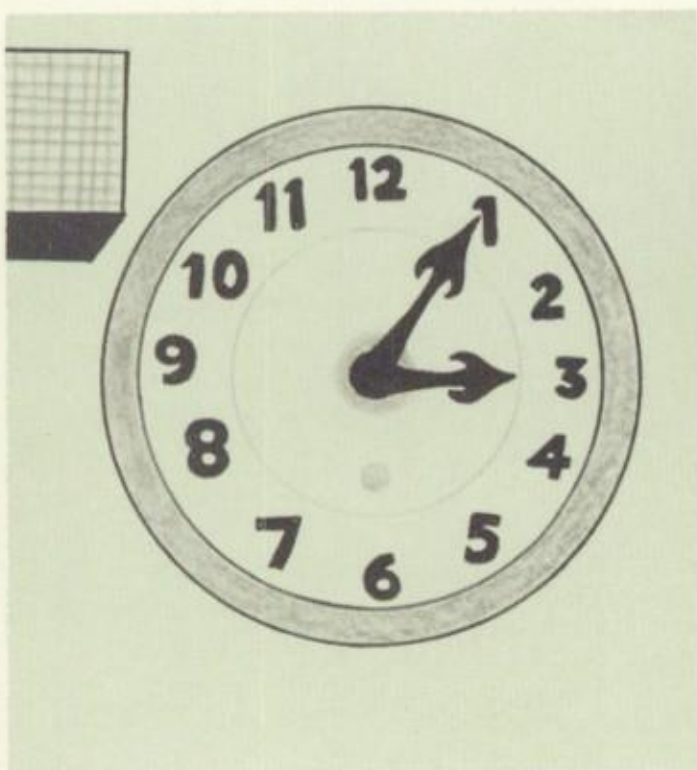

Rocky was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Denney. He had attended Cannon school and North Ridge Junior High School and was a member of this year's senior class. At Danville High he had been a member of the tennis team.

Johnnie Miles was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Miles, and was a member of the sophomore class. He had previously attended East Park Junior High School.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year's student council was one of the most successful ever. Because of Mr. Ray Grierson's concern and interest in all the students, meetings were open to any ideas or discussions. Under his direction, Student Council sponsored many worthwhile projects.

The Homecoming election was changed this year. The queen and her court were nominated by five representatives from each class. The classes as a whole then chose the queen and her court from the girls nominated. The dance, sponsored by Student Council, was again on a Saturday night.

President Curt presided over a regular meeting in the cafeteria.

Again this year, the council sponsored the AFS candy sale, which helps finance the AFS foreign student's trip to the U. S. The sale this year was the best ever. It also sponsored the student-faculty game, student government day, and student dress up day. Along with the faculty, Student Council worked on establishing a dress code.

"Operation Christmas Card" for servicemen in Vietnam was continued this year. The council sent over 600 cards. Working with the Schlarmann High School student council, the D.H.S. council helped in a campaign for preventing vandalism by sponsoring a poster contest.

One of the most important achievements of Student Council was being instrumental in re-establishment of the 16-team tournament. The council worked hard on this project and their efforts were successful.

Much time and hard work were given on the part of Student Council members this year. The very hard working President of the council was Curt Faas. His officers included Nancy Levy, vice-president; Cindy Burke, secretary; and Glenda Jones, treasurer.

Mrs. Sturm addressed the Council to ask help when the AFS bus visits Danville in July.

MEDLEY

The preparation and planning for this year's MEDLEY were affected by the cut-backs this year, too. Our regular yearbook room was used this year as a classroom, so that meant little work could be done up there other than the work in the darkroom.

Since there were no homeroom periods staff meetings were held before school, usually on Wednesday. Taking class pictures was the first work to be done, so the school staff under Nancy Davis were the first to start spending extra hours working. The organization staff under Carole Shobe was in charge of club and athletic pictures and records. The copy staff were in charge of writing the story of the year under the direction of Martha Jones. Art work was planned and executed by Al Linne and the members of the art staff. Pictures are a most important part of any yearbook and Scott

MAROON AND

The latest happenings around Danville High School were unfolded on the pages of the MAROON AND WHITE, the school newspaper. The two staffs, editorial and business, were headed by Mrs. Carlton and Mr. Schnelle, respectively.

Leading the editorial staff was the editor-in-chief, Dan Smith, assisted by Cindy Johnson, the managing editor. The editorial staff was in charge of writing stories, planning headlines and arranging pages.

Other staff heads were: Dan Olmsted, news editor; Keith Lucas, editorial editor; Michelle Moran, feature editor; Greg Bicket, sports editor; Jan Bahnke, special pages editor, and copy editor was Paul Sanders.

The business staff was kept quite busy, too. They had to sell advertisements, collect the subscriptions and deliver the papers.

At the head of the business staff was Jim Fitzhugh first semester and Jim Story second

MONITORS

OFFICE ASSISTANTS

Martha Derrickson; Janice McKinney;
Darlene Murray; Janet Thurman.

"Good morning, Danville High School" . . . "What room are you going to?" . . . these were a few of the familiar words that you might have heard from an office assistant or monitor.

The office assistants' main job was delivering those dreaded green call slips, or sometimes the very much wanted white ones. They worked in the deans' offices, the guidance office, the principal's office, Mr. Mathisen's office and Mr. Ware's office. Office assistants answered the phone, filed, wrote transfers and excuses and helped in any other way possible.

The monitors kept order in the halls during the lunch hours and prevented students from bothering classes in session at that time by keeping everyone on the first floor.

Service awards were given in recognition of the time given in performing these duties. Any senior who had served for two semesters or more was eligible to receive an award certificate.

Z CLUB

The girls you saw working in the concession stand at the football games and those who decorated the field for Homecoming were Z Club members.

A service club sponsored by the Danville Zonta Club, the D.H.S. Z Club members devoted time and effort to community and school service. These activities included baby-sitting for PTA meetings, making Easter baskets for the retarded classes at Douglas, Operation Christmas Card for servicemen, serving cake on the mall to celebrate its first anniversary and giving treats to the children in the hospitals for Valentine's Day.

Officers this year were Donna Carlton, president; Jan Kelton, vice-president; Dana Warburton, secretary; Nancy McDermott, treasurer; Renee Godin and Jane Swanson, senior and junior board members. Miss Lois Jones served as advisor.

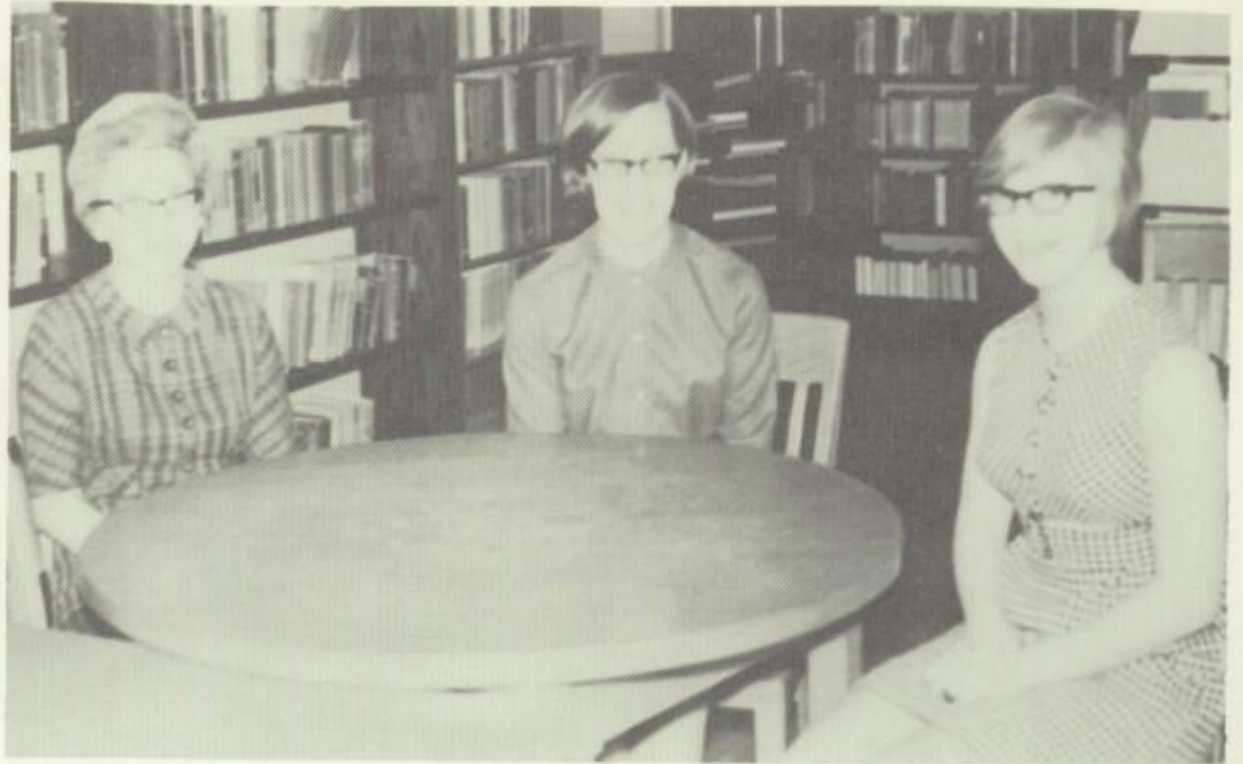

The girls lined up for their pictures before the rush for food began.

Maroon and white streamers provided by these girls helped Homecoming spirit.

Mrs. Nelms; Sara Harris; Karen Hershberger.

Mrs. Nelms gave help as Gary and Jim found material.

PROJECTORS CLUB

Jim Comrie

Dennis Seymour; Mrs. Jenkins; Scott Richmond.

Mrs. York

If there was ever a club that gave a great deal of service to Danville High it was Projectors Club. The need for this club was great because of the large number of films which were shown by the teachers.

Before the school day began the boys delivered films, projectors, and other equipment to the rooms where it was needed that day. During the day boys were assigned to show films in the different rooms throughout the building. Projector Club members were also responsible for spotlighting during assemblies and other school productions.

Jim Comrie served as president with Scott Richmond, Dennis Seymour, and Butch VanHorn assisting as vice-president, social chairman and program chairman, respectively. Mrs. Helen Jenkins and Mrs. Mary York ordered films, and scheduled films and boys to show them. Mrs. Louise Nelms coordinated all the activities.

Y-TEENS

This year Y-Teens met at the YWCA at 3:30 every other Wednesday after school. This club, a Christian organization, gave service to the school and community and promoted fellowship among high school girls.

The Sadie Hawkins Dance, sponsored by the Y-Teens, was held at the Y after the Danville-Lincoln game. Other activities this year were a Valentine's Dance, a Christmas Party, and a hootennany.

The officers this year included Laura Linn, president; Cindy Johnson, vice-president; Cathy Gutteridge, secretary; Cindy Burke, treasurer; and Brenda Armstrong, chaplain. Miss Susan Bowscher of the YWCA was assisted by Mrs. Harriet Chamberlin.

Laura and Brenda were surrounded by flowers and dance decorations.

Becky Pachciarz; Susie Lovejoy; Jan Comrie.

GIRLS CLUB

Girls Club, the oldest organization in Danville High School, met every other Wednesday in room 117 after school. The officers, advisors, and cabinet members worked hard all year to organize interesting and worthwhile programs.

The holly sale was the biggest project of the year. This project raised the money for the dinner-dance that was held in the early spring. Some of the other meetings featured a fall style show, slides of Europe, a teen talent show and the annual picnic.

This year's officers were Suzie Lovejoy, president; Jan Comrie, vice-president; Becky Pachciarz, secretary-treasurer; Nancy Day, pianist; Karen Hershberger, attendance supervisor; and Julie Crow, publicity chairman. Miss Darlene Grimes and Mrs. Jean Brown served as advisors.

117 was a regular meeting place, and featured refreshments most evenings.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Standing: Carole Shobe; Renee Godin. Seated: Randee Rosenthal; Keith Lucas; Nan DeVries.

The Dramatic Club provided an expanded program of productions again this year. "Lilies of the Field" was presented in December and "Mary of Scotland" in March.

Mr. John Sanders, club advisor, was assisted by the officers in planning the club's program. At Christmas the annual Christmas banquet was held and the coming of spring saw the club's picnic being held. One-act plays were given for regular meetings.

The club had a policy of open membership again this year and the many Thespians widened the club's scope of activities. This year the officers were: Carol Shobe, president; Keith Lucas, vice-president; Cindy Johnson, secretary; Randy Rosenthal, play manager; Renee Godin, play critic, and Sheri Azoff, librarian.

Standing: T. Davis; K. Lucas; K. Fennessey; K. Houpt; R. Godin; C. Shobe; J. Welch; P. Sanders; N. McDermott; L. Terry. Seated: A. Sperling; J. Dole; R. Rosenthal; S. Fields; K. Bagley; M. Hall; L. Sadowski.

Carole presided at the annual Christmas Alumni Banquet.

John Osborne; Ralph Huckstadt; Mr. Barker.

SCIENCE CLUB

Science Club was one of the groups which was almost a casualty of the "cut-back." Not reactivated until late in March, the club was not as big as usual. However, discussions and experiments in the various fields were carried out and proved to be of interest to those who attended. John Osborn served as president and Ralph Huckstadt as vice-president. Mr. John Barker was club advisor.

HUMAN RELATIONS CLUB

Randee Rosenthal; Karen Bagley; Mrs. Sanders; Mr. Green; Keith Lucas.
Absent: Nan DeVries.

It was a very full and busy year for the Human Relations Club in its first full year as an active organization. Led by Mrs. Sanders and Mr. Green as advisors, the officers were Randee Rosenthal and Keith Lucas, co-chairmen, and Nan DeVries and Karen Bagley as secretaries. They worked very hard to improve the relationships between students.

Meetings were held twice each month to discuss various problems and explore ideas as to how improvement might be made. One topic of particular interest was the Kerner report on civil disorder which was discussed in great length by club members. The club also prepared and presented a play which was shown over the local television station. At the end of the year a scholarship was presented to a deserving club member. Money was earned by the members taking care of the coat checking at the games and from the proceeds of a bake sale.

Prospects for next year and ideas for a program to continue the interests developed this year showed that Danville High School hoped for better understanding among its students.

The club's first meeting was a good place for good fellowship.

The play which featured characters in bag masks was thought-provoking.

F S A

Standing: Miss Snyder; Miss Norvelitis; Miss Egan. Seated: M. Sollars; J. McDaniel; G. Thornton; D. Krauel.

Members of the Oneida chapter of the Future Secretaries of America discovered that they must learn to dress and act properly on the job, as well as knowing how to type, file and take dictation. All junior and senior girls enrolled in business in both Danville and Schlarman High Schools were eligible to be members. A tour of DJC, numerous speakers, the selection of Diana Krauel as Miss FSA of 1969 were activities of the year.

Officers this year included Gail Thornton of Schlarman, president; Diana Krauel of Danville, vice-president; Jackie McDaniel of Schlarman, secretary; and Marietta Sollars of Danville, treasurer. Miss Sara Snyder and Miss Diane Egan served as the school advisors for the group. The NSA advisor was Miss Jan Norvelitis.

OFFICE OCCUPATIONS

Thirteen girls led by Miss Snyder and officers Kathy Brown, president; Cindy Collins, vice-president; Zoe Oder, secretary; Nancy Day, treasurer; and Diana Young, historian, were active in the Office Occupations program.

These girls attended school for half days and worked in offices the other half of the day. Most of these girls plan to follow this career. In the fall members of the group attended the state convention where they exchanged ideas with other girls in this field. The annual employee-employer dinner was the chief social event in the spring.

Standing: Miss Snyder; N. Day; Z. Oder; D. Young. Seated: C. Brown; C. Colwell.

Brad Hayes; Wendy Cramer; Connie Weidenburner; Mr. Williams.

DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATIONS

Led by officers Brad Hayes, president; Wendy Cramer, vice-president; Connie Weidenburner, secretary-treasurer; Mike Dines, historian; and Bill Applegate, publicity chairman, and advisor, Mr. Williams, the Diversified Occupations program was a full and active one this year.

Students in D.O. went to school for four class hours and then worked the remaining two. They worked in one of two areas, health services or trade and industry, both of which were mainly apprentice programs. Both boys and girls were active in the program this year and worked at everything from boat mechanics to telephone operators, from dental lab assistants to machinists.

All 27 members belong to the national VICA club for vocational industrial students in D.O. This year seven members attended State Convention in Springfield. Also this year, Danville's D.O. had a state officer, Mark New, recorder.

April 29 marked a big day for D.O. members; it was the annual Industrial Education Open House held from 3:00 through the evening. Also on May 18 a trip was taken to Indianapolis.

D.O. is open to junior and senior students planning to enter the vocational field and is a two year course.

Class meetings were held in the new room in I.E.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

For the 27 students enrolled in Distributive Education courses coming to school and working are combined. Each student attends half a day of school and works the remaining half day at a job in the merchandising field. Jobs ranged from working in grocery stores to working in the larger shopping centers and included just about all facets of merchandising.

This year members attended the Area 3 Conference and the State Conference. At the State Conference students participated in display judging, public speaking, advertising layout competition, sales demonstration and job interview competition. In the job interview competition Jan Barks was one of the top seven finalists and Jim Golding placed 13th in the advertising contest.

D.E. members were invited by the state to attend the National Convention in Atlantic City, but were unable to attend.

The members planned their own social activities, including the employer-employee banquet on April 29.

Aside from the conventions the club took part in a Washington, D. C. survey which was planned to investigate the marketing of different goods.

Officers this year were Jeanie Yowell, president; Jim Golding, vice-president; Diane Donnolly, secretary; Marla Moreford, treasurer, and Jim Comrie, historian. Mr. Schnelle was advisor this year.

A CAPPELLA

The sound of music was seemingly ever present for the members of the vocal music department. For all three choirs it was a very busy year.

A Cappella, under the direction of Miss Helen Wolff, participated in the Fall Concert and performed at various places around the city at Christmas time, as well as presenting the annual Christmas Assembly. Second semester projects included the Spring Concert, Big 12 music festival and best of all, Moments Musical.

Officers this year were Sue Doan and Bob Gross, presidents; Cindy Johnson and Bob Taylor, vice-presidents; Denise Bacon, secretary, and accompanists Cheryl Cary and Jolene Nelson.

CHORALETTES

Choralettes was an all-girl choir of 40 which met during the sixth hour each day. They performed at Fall and Spring Concerts, in Moments Musical and gave numerous concerts in the community. Miss Helen Wolff directed the group. Peggy Lenover was president, assisted by Jan Juvinall, vice-president; Mary Sue Lucas, secretary; Jan Keele and Rota Pachciarz, assistant secretaries; Jan Comrie, Debbie Graham and Connie Styer as librarians. Cheryl Cary and Jolene Nelson were accompanists.

CHOIRISTERS

Choiristers met during the 4B hour in the Band Room. They were directed by Mr. Paul Studebaker. Participation in the Fall and Spring Concerts and a section of the Moments Musical as well as community engagements kept them busy. Officers were Jill Igo and Peggy Damery, secretaries; Roxana Welshire and Martha Coffman, librarians. Accompanists were Lolita Porietis and Mike Wetterow.

ORCHESTRA

First hour found the D.H.S. Orchestra hard at work on their difficult and demanding music. Mr. Eugene Adam, the conductor, kept the orchestra in tip-top condition by surprising the members with frequent try-outs.

The orchestra played in the annual Fall, Winter and Spring Concerts and Moments Musical. The group also performed at high school P.T.A. meetings and Baccalaureate.

The largest orchestra in the Big 12 has sent its members to Bloomington for the String Festival, to Urbana for the district IMEA, and to Champaign for Big 12. Four members of the orchestra were selected to go to All-State in Peoria.

This year Sharon Deem was president, Becky Pachciarz was secretary-treasurer and Greg Colby and Jim Washington were junior and sophomore representatives, respectively.

The 1968 Danville Marching Vikings marched their way to head Big 12, along with the Football and Cross Country Vikings. This was accomplished by marching on the parking lot, stopping traffic on the streets, trampling on the practice field and luring sixth hour classes from their attentions to their studies—in the heat of summer, the chill of fall, and snow.

D CLUB

President Van presided over a meeting in the cafeteria.

The "D" Club was in its second year at D.H.S. under the direction of Paul Shebby, the Athletic director.

The "D" Club started their own janitorial service at the basketball games. They were in charge of keeping the spectators in their seats and showing them to the proper seat.

They also were in charge of cleaning up after the Pompettes. They had to sweep the floor before and at half time of all the varsity games.

Coach Shebby was recognized by the members of the D Club.

Since the "D" Club could not raise any money they had sort of a simple year. The big event was at the district games. They sold programs and made a little money for the treasury.

Officers this year were Van Tanner, president; Dave Crose, vice-president; Bob Gross, secretary; and Jack Tinder, publicity manager.

Trainer Fay Bolser was given a cake commemorating his help and attendance at 180 games.

Third row: D. Bacon; N. Davis; G. Starbody; C. Lamb; R. Godin; K. Houpt; J. Mosser; N. Larrick; M. Waggoner; S. Morris; A. Thalman; P. Thomas; Mrs. Fogleman, advisor. Second row: S. Doan K. Dowdy; C. POMPETTES

Left, left, left, right, left—"Here come the girls." With this familiar cadence, the Danville High School Pompettes came into view.

Led by Co-Captains Nancy Levy and Carol Meachum, these thirty-four girls performed at pre-game and half time ceremonies during football and basketball games. They also carried the eight Conference Flags at the football games, and two members held the arch before each game. Gay Starbody and Ginny Julian drew the arches for the 1968-69 games.

In addition to their peppy routines, the Pompettes helped to promote spirit by cheering at Pep Assemblies and decorating the D.H.S. locker room before games.

During the Holiday Tournament the Senior Pompettes served as hostesses for each of the visiting teams.

Tryouts were held in the spring. The Senior Pompettes and Mrs. Fogleman, Pompette advisor, served as judges.

The Pompettes added much color and pep to the half-time activities.

When the arch appeared game time was here.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

Peggy Lenover; Judy Lenover; Flora Collier; Carole Shobe; Mary Sue Lucas.

It was a first for D.H.S. this year. Instead of one, there were two squads of varsity cheerleaders and two squads of sophomore cheerleaders. Each one added much to our school spirit. The football cheerleaders led the enthusiastic cries of "We want a touchdown" and added much to the spirit that helped capture the Conference title. Those on the football squad were Carole Shobe, Peggy Lenover, Flora Collier, Mary Sue Lucas and Captain Judy Lenover. Their support and enthusiasm added greatly to the excitement of each victory.

at D.H.S. Miss Linda Queen served as the advisor of both of these squads and for the sophomores also.

The Junior Varsity or sophomore cheerleaders were divided into the Maroon and the White squads and took turns cheering at the home basketball games. They also helped lead the cheering at the pep assemblies. Those on the Maroon squad were Sue Guffey, Connie Middleton, Holly Hussman, Vicky Cozatt, and Captain Candy Milewski. Those on the White squad were Lou Ann LeMaire, Karen Schoolcraft, Penny Davis, Peggy Paxton and Captain Karen Tanner. These girls were also able to attend some of the away games and help with the cheering.

Michael Bolden was a very enthusiastic Spirit Viking. His mighty voice and his great school spirit always came through to help the cheerleaders at all the games. As he led the teams onto the field or playing floor the enthusiasm always increased. He is to be commended for his support.

Miss Queen received a cake from the cheerleaders at the Victory dance.

The African safari was one of the best skits on the pep assemblies.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

This was the year of the "comeback" in D.H.S. major sports. The football team from a '67 season with one win compiled a '68 record of 8-1. Undeclared in the conference, they won the championship, the first outright one in D.H.S. history.

The season started with a 12-6 win over cross-town rival, Schlarman. The next week

Coach Frank Luzenske; Head Coach Paul Shebby; Coach Dave Fields.

Manager Clapp was apparently not included in the strategy huddle before the game with Schlarman.

Tommie carried over for a first down again.

Urbana downed this play but it didn't help them.

Peoria Spalding marred the season by defeating the Vikings 27-6. This seemed only to make the team more determined to change things this year.

The first conference game with always strong Urbana resulted in a 7-0 win. Mattoon and Decatur were the next victims of our surging Vikings. Homecoming was made better than ever with a 34-25 win over Bloomington. The next week the Vikings journeyed to Champaign and for the first time since 1952 defeated the Maroons by the decisive score of 26-13. The victory was especially "sweet" for assistant coach Fields, who had played on that 1952 team. The next game was a particularly important one. This 33-20 win over Lincoln meant "We're No. 1" and the championship. The final game was a 34-25 win over Quincy and was a fitting climax.

tried to show their appreciation to the team for their fine season. A "Victory dance" was held to honor the Conference champions in both football and cross country. Later the teams were guests of the celebration on the mall and all members of the teams received scrolls from the mayor. Coach Shebby was voted "Coach of the Year" by the Sportswriters Association.

Since many of the team members were juniors and sophomores, the Vikings are hoping for another good year next fall, and have a lot to work for.

Since most of the juniors and sophomores were playing regularly with the varsity squad, the junior varsity played only three games this year, winning all three. The win over Champaign Central was an especially gratifying one. Coach John Fogleman worked with the Junior Varsity squad. Games were played on Saturday morning or after school.

CROSS COUNTRY

Danville's Cross Country team continued their winning ways and extended their record to 30 consecutive wins over two seasons. This year's record included 13 wins and no losses in dual meets and repeat wins of the Conference and district. Barney Hance finished first in all dual meets and second in the Conference meet. Dave Crose finished first in the District meet and third in the conference.

The most valuable award was voted to Dave Crose. The high scholastic award went to Ron Rouse. Hance and Crose were captains and Coach Jack Chantos led the team in his first season as coach.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The varsity basketball team approached the season with a new coach, no returning lettermen, and a determination to continue the winning ways of the fall sports teams.

Though there were no lettermen, there were several on the squad who had had considerable experience last year. The first games were played in the Lockport Thanksgiving Tourney. Here the team broke even, losing to Lockport, then defeating Wheaton North. The first home game saw Schlarman squeezing out a 63-60 victory and then Lincoln won by two points 47-45. Next came victories over Paris and Mattoon before the Vikings bowed to Champaign Central. Victories over Rantoul and Bloomington pepped the boys up for the holiday tourney in which they went to the finals, bowing in the championship game to Joliet Catholic 69-63.

After the Christmas break the team lost to Mattoon, Champaign, Bloomington, and Lincoln but gained victories over Springfield twice, Crawfordsville, Urbana, and Decatur, the first such win in the Decatur gym for many years.

In the regional the Vikings were fired up, defeating St. Joe-Ogden, Catlin, and cross-town Schlarman for the championship. The sectional game was a see-saw battle with Clifton Central winning in the end on free throws.

The team and Coach Lewis were to be congratulated for they had "come back" from a 1-18 season in 1967-68 to a winning season capped by the regional championship. Several lettermen were underclassmen and so basketball prospects look better for next year.

Leroy went high for the tip-off.

The experience gained by these players should help them next year as they advance to varsity play.

The Viking mermen, relatively inexperienced and having lost their record-breaking seniors were able to end the season with 5 wins and 7 losses. There were several bright spots in the season, however, and some new records were set. Co-Captain Greg Clapper set a new record in the 100-yard backstroke. Not to be outdone, Mark Krainock the other co-captain, broke the 100-yard breaststroke record. Both were members of the medley relay team which qualified for the State meet.

Particularly gratifying were the victories over Bloomington and Urbana, both of whom had defeated the Vikings in early season meets. At the Conference meet the team placed 3rd and 5th in the District, qualifying Clapper and the medley relay team.

Coach Gerald Gossett was assisted by student teacher Dave Redenbaugh, who helped particularly in the early morning practices. Greg Clapper was voted most valuable by his teammates and with Andy Gold was chosen to lead the 1969-70 team. Jim Story was given the scholastic award.

There were only five returning lettermen to start the season, but new grapplers were found who could gain points and pins. The team placed fifth in the Conference with Tommie Davis winning the 165-lb. title. Richard Cross and Davis both advanced from the district to sectional and state competition.

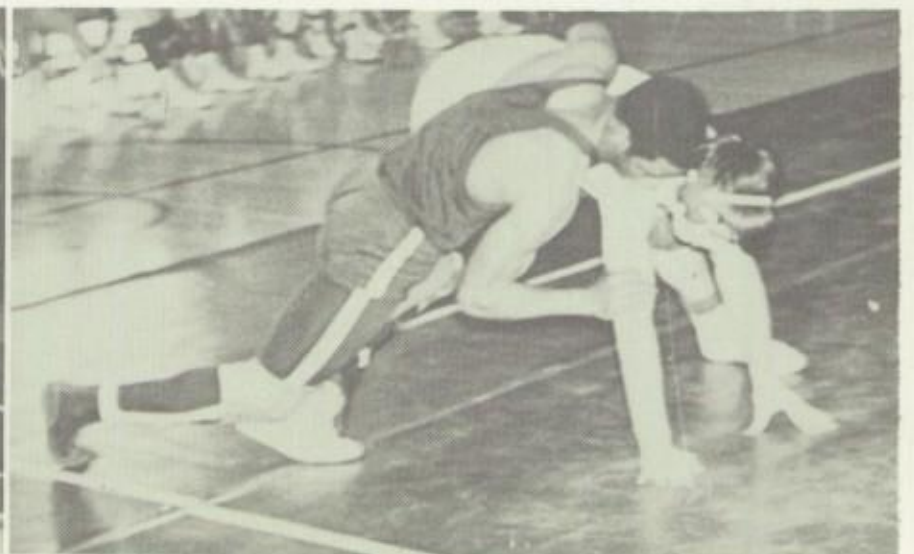

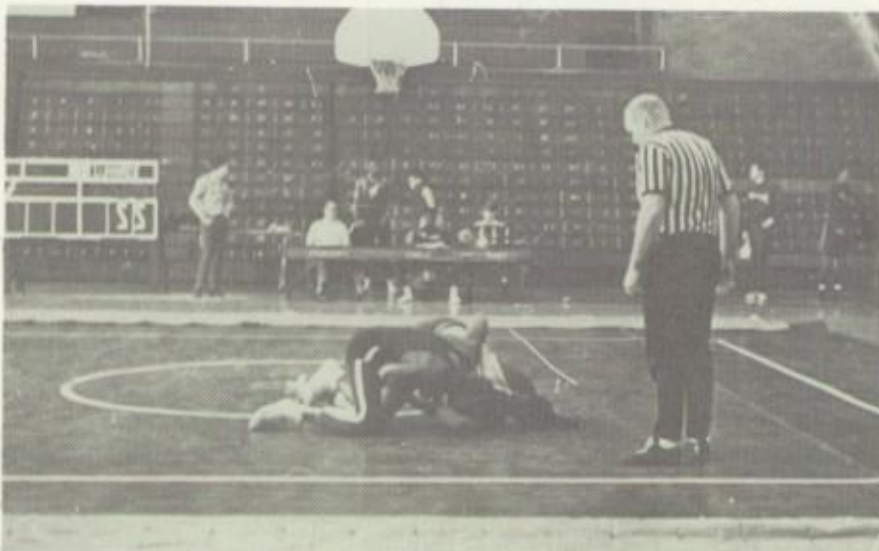

Danville garnered a second place in the district competition.

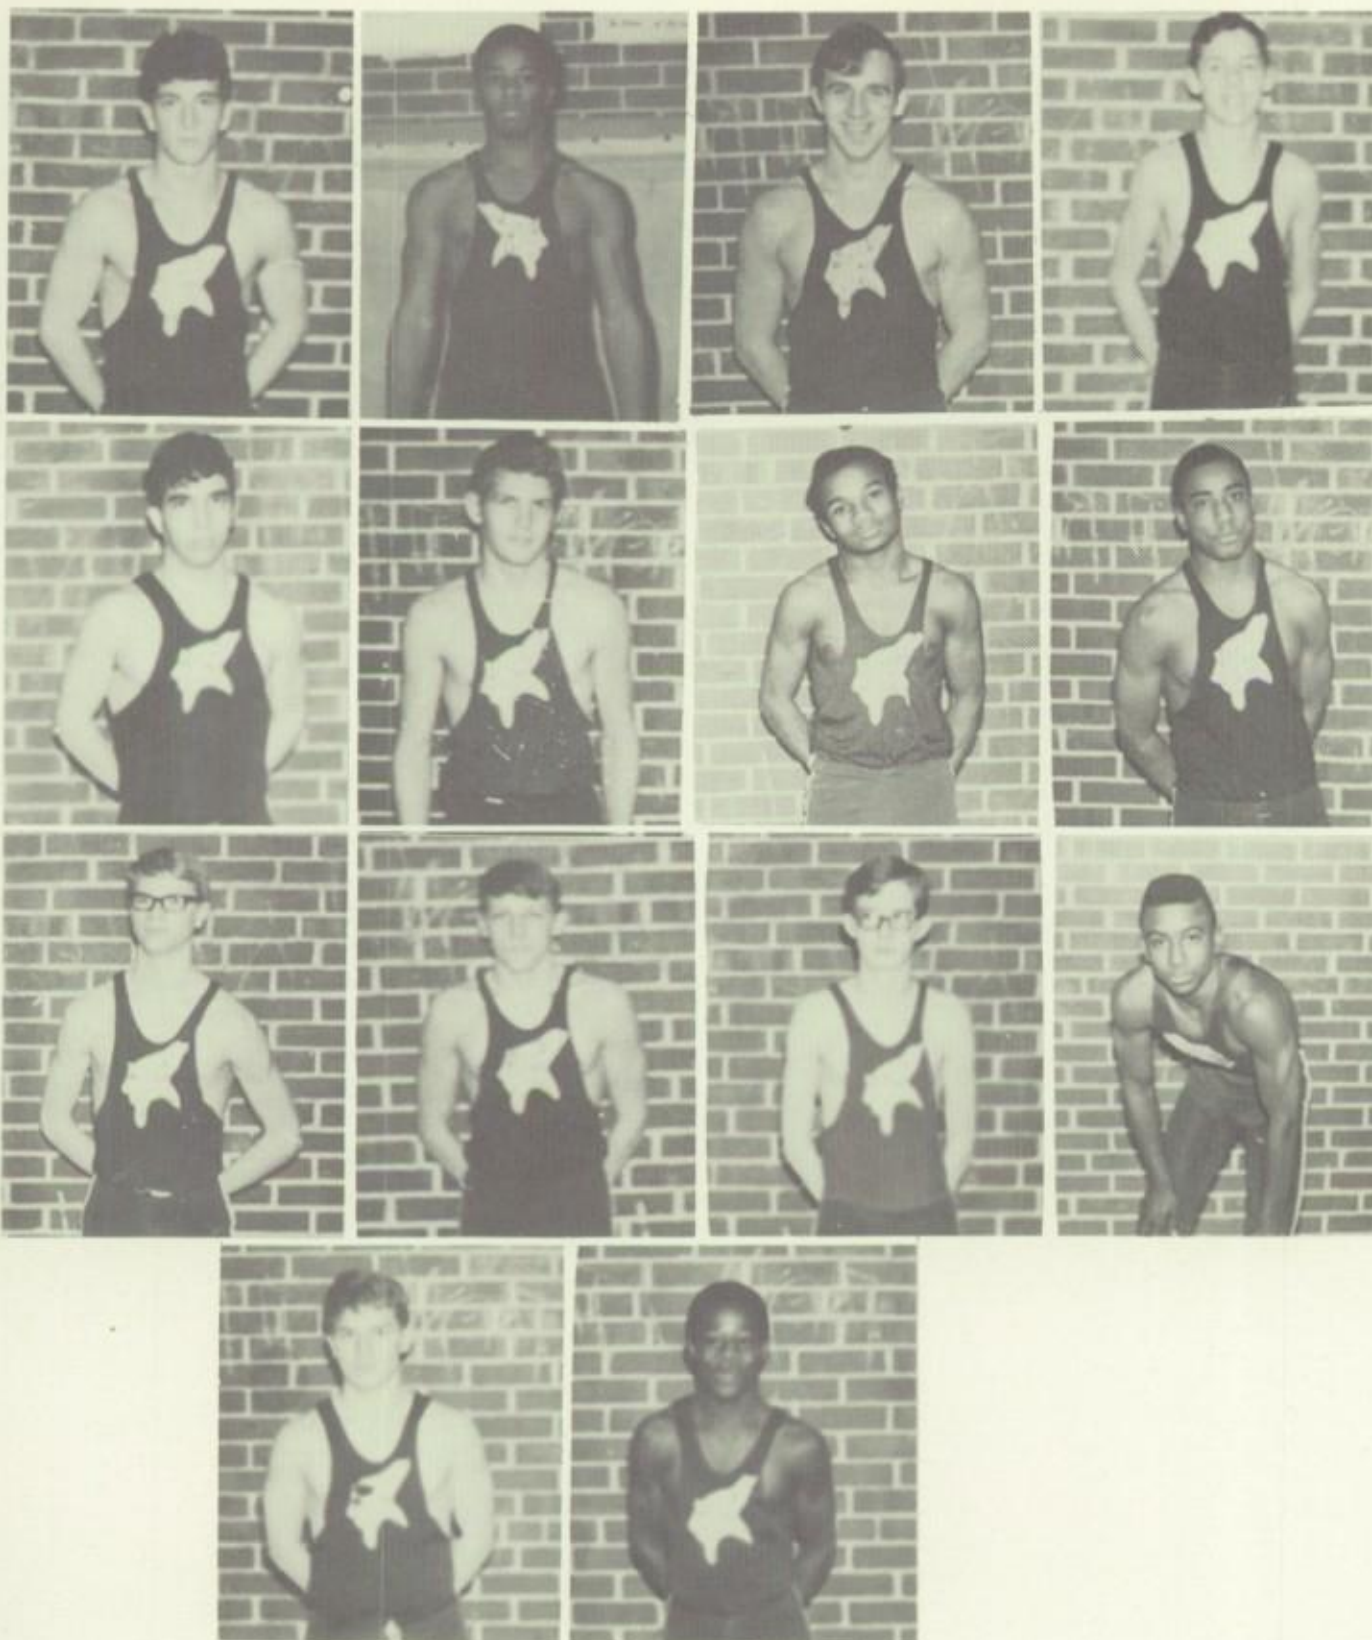

Coach Fred Graham, in his second year with the team, was assisted by Coach Louis Fontanez. The Junior Varsity team compiled a record of 9 wins and 4 losses so many of them should qualify for the varsity next year.

Davis was voted the most valuable and shared the co-captaincy with Van Tanner, who also won the scholastic award.

A fourth place in the Conference meet and a final placing of 18th in the State meet made the team feel that they had had a very successful season. The best scores during the season for nine holes were a 33 shot by Randy Campbell and a 34 shot by Dave Bernthal. Terry Kegley was team captain and Randy Campbell received both the most valuable and the scholastic awards.

The 1968 tennis team under Coach Tom Means recorded another successful season with 9 wins and 3 losses. The Viking netters captured second in the District with Captain Bob Risi winning the singles title. In the Conference Risi also became the singles champion as the team placed fifth. In the state meet the netters placed nine with Bob Risi once again in the semi-finals of the singles matches.

At the end of the season the most valuable award was voted to Captain Risi, who also received the Glen Robertson Award and the Booster Club Scholarship. Scott Simpson was elected to head the team for the 1969 season along with Rick Handelman, who later moved away from Danville.

TRACK

The 1968 track team completed a fine year under first-year head coach, Larry Burgess. The team compiled a dual meet record of seven wins and three losses. At invitational meets the team placed first at the Central Illinois Indoor Meet, fourth at the Paris Relays, tied for third at the Lawrenceville Relays, and second at the Mattoon Invitational.

Individual standouts were Jim Skinner, Barney Hance, and Joe Tanner. Jim Skinner was undefeated in the two-mile run in eighteen dual meets while setting the school record of 9:47.6. Barney Hance went undefeated in the 880 yard run and set the school record of 1:56. Joe Tanner set a new school record in the pole vault at 12' 9".

Jim Skinner received the Most Valuable Award with Joe Tanner having the Highest Scholastic Average. Dave Crose and Jerry Holden were elected captains for the 1969 season. Coach John Chantos was chosen as head coach for 1969 when Mr. Burgess left Danville. Eighteen letters were awarded.

BASEBALL

The Danville High Viking batmen under new head coach Lloyd Logan compiled a 10 and 9 record for the season. Since so many players had been lost by graduation the previous spring, the team considered this to be a rebuilding year and were gratified to end with a winning record. There were several bright spots among the wins, among them being the shut-out victory over Oakwood 23-0 and the one over Lincoln 14-3. There were also several times that the opposing teams were defeated by over 3 runs.

Champaign proved to be their toughest foe as they defeated the Vikings four times, the last loss coming in the regional tourney. Danville had won the district and was hoping to advance to sectional play, but there was Champaign again.

At the end of the season Captain Bruce Schofield was elected as the most valuable player. Scott Blary was elected captain for the 1969 season. Assistant Coach Bob Kay was advanced to head coach for 1969. As the MEDLEY went to press all of the spring sports were getting a chance to play though it had been feared that the cut-back would affect them. The baseball team was hoping for less rain and a chance to get the schedule played.

Homer Smith, a free man and roving spirit, who decided to travel around the country after receiving his army discharge is the central figure in Lilies of the Field. In the course of his travels, Smith ran across an order of nuns making a humble living and stopped to lend them his services (for a price). In so doing he ended up building a chapel for them almost completely by himself. The faith that the Mother Superior instilled in him helped him to overcome his doubts and complaints. After the chapel was completed he left as quietly as he came, but with lasting friendship and true freedom gained from his companionship with the nuns.

The story of Mary of Scotland's life from the time she set foot on her land as a nineteen-year-old queen until she was imprisoned by Elizabeth is the basis for this play. The intrigue which surrounded her bewildered her for she wished only to live and love and rule and worship as she chose in her own land. The loyalty of some of her subjects was offset by the fears of others as she came to claim her throne. The play ended with her imprisonment and realization that this had all been contrived by Elizabeth who feared her power, but would never have the fulfillment of love and motherhood that Mary had.

David was seized by Mary's enemies.

Mary and her ladies discussed future plans.

Elizabeth pondered Mary's fate.

MOMENTS MUSICAL

The vocal segment of Moments Musical was divided into two sections. The Choiristers, "The Old West" had a variety of songs, including Skip to My Lou, Home on the Range and some other old time favorites. In the second half of the show A Cappella and Choral-ettes presented "In London Town." Some of their songs were 59th Street Bridge Song, Sounds of Silence and many others. The Choralettes sang Cherish, One Song, and then A Cappella closed the show with This Is a Great Country.

Folk songs as a part of American music today were sung by these performers.

A Cappella's dancers performed the Charleston for the Queen.

Steve directed the clarinet choir.

Mickey Kramer's original drum number was interesting.

The 1969 instrumental section of Moments Musical was held on March 26. The program, "Great Moments in Music," consisted of music and acts by the Orchestra, Concert Band and Symphonic Band. Highlights of the program included "Camelot" (Orchestra), "Santa Anna's Retreat" (Concert Band), "Italian in Algiers" (Symphonic Band), "The Music Man" (combined bands), and "Sensibility" (written by Micky Kramer and performed by a percussion ensemble).

Mr. Robert Allan directed the Symphonic Band, assisted by Miss Barbara Brock-Jones, student teacher; Steve White and Bill Gray, student conductors. Orchestra was directed by Mr. Eugene Adam; Mr. Terry Roderick conducted the Concert Band.

Steve proved you could play a trombone with only one hand.

Jim Gullickson and Jay Hoeflinger were good M.C.'s.

Mr. Allan received a standing ovation for his remarks.

The majorettes added color with their routine.

Don and Sue entertained us early in the year.

The cheerleaders enthused us all with their pep.

ASSEMBLIES

Leroy spoke at one of the pep assemblies in the gym.

The "Up With People" cast put us in a real Thanksgiving mood.

Cheerleader skits featured tigers 'n' things.
